Packaging Instructions: Please ensure that samples are clearly labeled and well packaged in a leak-proof container. Carefully wrap bottles/cans with padded packaging material to prevent breakage. If possible, place each sample inside a separate, sealable plastic bag.

Rush Service: Available upon request for an additional fee. Please note that some tests are unable to be rushed due to the time needed for microbial samples to grow; however, rush service guarantees front-of-line analysis or same day results whenever possible.

Sample Instructions:

Microbiological Samples: Ensure that samples are collected aseptically and in a leak-proof container with sufficient headspace. If possible, package with ice packs and ship via next-day or second-day air.

Analytical Samples: Ensure that samples are in a leak-proof container with minimal headspace, and kept as cold as possible. If possible, package with ice packs and ship via next-day or second-day air.

Please complete this form, print and ship along with samples to:
